Their Farewell to School a Hilarious One.

Today at the high school the morning fours were given over to the seniors or their classed and exercises. The usual unmount of noise resulted from the given gof "yells" by the members of the lifterent classes and organizations of the seniors. The yells was full of local references which brought forth decided applause. A two-step was started, and at this point Helen Fitzpatrick as Miss L. L. Ewing, Ernest Chamberlain as Principal A. J. Stout, and Merrell Gage as E. C. Hickey appeared suddenly on the scene and the dance consequently broke up. Many of the onlockers thought Miss Fitzpatrick was really Miss Ewing so clever was the make-up.

In the last scene the seniors came on in cap and gown attire, and sang a number of songs, accompanied by the high school orchestra.

HIS DREAM FADES

Cope & Co. Plan for Market House a Failure.

"Car to Consumer" Commission Man Gives Up Fight.

RESULT OF A BOYCOTT

Started When Fellow Dealers Declared War on Him.

Uncertain Whether There'll Be Trusteeship or Bankruptcy.

The "car to consumer" plan of furnishing the people of Topeka with provisions as devised and put into operation by Frank Cope & Co., commission merchants, a year ago after a memorable war with other commission houses and the retailers, has proven a failure.

Whether Cope & Co, shall be declared bankrupt and a referee appointed, a trustee named to continue the business, or an extension of time be made, will be settled at a meeting of the creditors at the Cope & Co. market Saturday morning. Two small suits begun in the court of Topeka this morning and a meeting of the large Topeka creditors last night precipitated a declaration by Mr. Cope.

The failure of the only city market attempted in Topeka in recent years may be considered a victory for the retail grocers; hardly for the rival commission men who have, since the war, declared a friendliness for the "market." trustee named to continue the business declared a Hierarchicket."

The liabilities of Cope & Co. are comparatively small in view of the amount of business undertaken by the company and actually accomplished. According to the statement made today by W. S. McClintock, attorney for the company, these liabilities are approximately the statement of this is amply secured. pany, these liabilities are approximately $20,000. Half of this is amply secured. Assets, which if the company is allowed time to realize upon by the creditors, declares the attorney, will yield between $7.000 and $5,000. The remaining apparent shortage, suggests the attorney, could be satisfactorily met by an extension of time.

"Mr. Cope has not yet furnished me the exact figures," said Mr. McClintock. "but they are very nearly as I have given them. I believe if the creditors would be willing to extend time on payments, there would be no need of any ments, there would be no need of any ments, there would be no need of any procedure of any kind. They will de that at the meeting Saturday morning. Mr. Cope Explains, "This situation," said Mr. Cope at his market at the corner of Kansas avenue ments and extensions on the Great Northern. It was also made known here today that the Bankers' Trust company of New York is the trustee under the $600,000,000 mortgage executed by the Great Northern. This is the largest corporate mortgage executed by the Great Northern. This is the largest corporate mortgage on record.

The financial community accepts the $600,000,000 mortgage on the Hill system of railroads as a precautionary measure more than anything else. It is also disposed to associate the proposed acquisition of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy by the Great Northern as a direct result of the recent Standard oll and American Tobacco decisions since it is generally recognized that Northern Pacific and Burlington are in a sense competing lines.

Local representatives of the Hill roads to the charge basis would be taken as and Second street, "is caused by several conditions, the most important one being that." He pointed to a girl fault with goods which if delivered on the charge will take care primarily of the dicago, Burlington and Quincy joint per cent bonds amounting to $22,400,000. The reporter stood for a half hour at the bonds were a feature of the stock arket this morning, advancing 2½ points 29% on heavy trading at the opening. Securities of the Great Northern and orthern Pacific were active and strong.

WILL WED TONICHT all min with a rapid stream of telephone orders and he turned them over to men to assemble. In the market space, only a few persons came to buy. The explanation of Mr. Cope was clearly true. There was no saving of expense to warrant a lower price than obtainable at the groceries. Perhaps this condition would be different were the market place further up town—but that would be out of the question on account of track spurs necessary to the handling of carload shipments.

In the admission of Mr. Cope that his business was forced.

Coming from Los Angeles, Cal., to Topeka, Rev. Joseph Smale, a widely known minister, and Miss Esther Hargraves, will be married at 7 o'clock this evening at the home of Rev. John Fazel, 724 Taylor street. Mr. and Mrs. Smale will leave tomorrow evening and expect to make their permanent home in Paddock Wood, Kent, England.

The marriage in Topeka is the culmination of a courtship that started in mination of a courtship that started in

Attorney General Fred S. Jackson Kansas avenue. brought an anti-trust suit to prove it. His showing was almost pitiable, the tion became one of the most influential in the city.

It was when Rev. Smale decided to carry his work abroad, that he told his ambitions to Miss Hargraves, asked her to become Mrs. Smale—and she accepted. It was Miss Hargraves' plan to be married in Topeka. She is a niece of Mrs. Fazel and when Rev. Smale resigned his pastorate, the couple left immediately for Kansas, They arrived in Topeka yesterday evening.

Following the wedding tonight Rev. and Mrs. Smale will leave for Chicago spend mext winter in Northern Spain and next year will easted for a visit. From there they will leave for Chicago and Milwaukee for a visit. From there they will leave for Montreal, then London and Glasgow. They expect to spend next winter in Northern Spain and next year will establish their home in England.

Backed by his congregation to an almost unlimited extent, Rev. Dr. Smale and his wife will establish missions representing their new faith in South American points. This work will be inaugurated next year. It is possible that $100,000 will be necessary to carry on the preliminary work in South America, but the Los Angeles church has pledged itself to finance the undestaking.

Mrs. Smale will herself assist in the southern missionary work. For several years she was a missionary in Caraca, Venezuela; and her activity in missionary work first attracted the attention of the prominent western minister, if the had only recently established his church in Los Angeles when Miss Hargare, a graves returned from her trip abroad. Then she took up the work in the new church, which is a branch of the Baptist faith, and was instrumental in fired. There is no question that the prices quoted by Cope & Co. were uniformly and consistently lower than the prices to be obtained elsewhere. But the sacrifice was too great.

Another reason for the failure, however lies in the shifting of the egg market. Several carloads of eggs bought by this company last year at 22 cents were forced to go on the market at Philadelphia at II cents. This is one of the severest blows which has struck the company. Attorney McClintock explained this incident in a very plausible way and one which would not reflect so much discredit on Mr. Cope's judgment of the egg market. The postal quotations on produce sent out by the company were mailed a day late by some mistake and the shipments
